

GUIDED TOUR, TATE BRITAIN
FRANK WOODGATE

Date	Thursday 26 April 2018 - 10.30 a.m.

The Day
Following on from Frank Woodgate's inspiring lectures about the Tate Britain in November, he is offering to give members a private guided tour of some paintings in the permanent collection. (There is no requirement to have been on the talk.)

Afterwards, while at Tate Britain, we have the opportunity of seeing the EY Exhibition: Impressionists in London, French Artists in Exile (1870 – 1904).

There should be sufficient time for members to have the guided tour, take lunch, see the exhibition and take a train back to Cornwall. It would mean travelling the day before either by Sleeper Train or an evening in a hotel.

The Exhibition - EY Exhibition: *Impressionists in London, French Artists in Exile (1870 – 1904)

This exhibition presents captivating works by Monet, Tissot, Pissarro and their compatriots Dalou, Sisley, Derain and Legros. In the 1870s, France was devastated by the Franco-Prussian war and insurrection in Paris, driving artists to seek refuge across the Channel. Their experiences in London and the friendships that developed not only influenced their own work but also contributed to the British art scene.

This is the first exhibition to map the connections between French and British artists, patrons and art dealers during a traumatic period in French history. Highlighting their engagement with British culture, traditions and social life, their art is a fascinating insight into how London was perceived by the visiting French artists and the remarkable works that came from their time here are not to be missed. (There would be a cost associated with seeing this exhibition.)

We recommend that members do not book accommodation, trains or Exhibition places until we confirm that the event is viable and definitely running.
